

Statistical Analysis of MPJE® Passing Rates for First-time Candidates per Pharmacy School from 2007-2009

The following table indicates the passing percentages for first time MPJE candidates who were graduates from ACPE-accredited United States schools and colleges of pharmacy in 2007, 2008, and 2009. The data only reflects data from students that took the exam for the state that their university resides in. This data may be useful to the state boards of pharmacy as well as the schools and colleges of pharmacy.
